

CALL FOR PAPERS

The University of Victoria's Environmental Studies Students' Society (ESSA) will be hosting an undergraduate conference on the the theme of sustainability March 19-21, 2010.

If you are an undergraduate student with big ideas about the future of sustainability we would love to hear about it. The title of the conference is:

Reclaiming Sustainability

The conference will begin with a keynote address (March 19) and will consist of 8 panels held over 2 days (March 20-21). We understand the multi-disciplinary nature of this topic and are open to receiving any submissions that relate to sustainability. Panelists should plan to give a 20 minute presentation followed by questions at the end of the panel. The panel topics are as follows:

From Interiority to Sustainability
(Religion, Spirituality, Eco-Psychology)

The Philosophy of Sustainability
(Ethics, Depth Psychology, Phenomenology)

The Aesthetics of Sustainability
(Fine Arts)

Toward Cultures of Sustainability
(Literature, Language)

Systemic Sustainability
(Political Ecology, Economics)

Sustainable Development: Local to Global

The Science of Sustainability

Sustainable Technologies

If you are interested in participating in this conference please send us a proposal of 3-5 pages by Friday, January 15, 2010.

Please e-mail submissions and enquiries to: bardic@uvic.ca

A conference website is forthcoming. We will publish work submitted by panelists on this website and will respond to selected panelists to request permissions accordingly.

Accommodation will be arranged for panelists travelling to the University of Victoria during the conference. Transportation to and from the University of Victoria will not be subsidized.
